

VantagePoint Expands Northeast Team

Graylin Johnson joins VantagePoint bringing an expansive knowledge in planning and analytics along with real word retail experience.

ATLANTA (December 15, 2015) – Mr. Johnson most recently managed the SAP BPC implementation at Tory Burch in New York. Prior to Tory he served as solution engineer at NTT Data where he implemented financial solutions for fortune 500 companies across a variety of industries. He has extensive experience developing financial processes that allow for enhanced performance and leading the change management required to improve the processes and integrate the technology to facilitate them.

“I couldn’t be happier with how well Graylin fits with our culture and the way his skills compliment that of the team” says Greg Wright, CEO of VantagePoint. “Graylin’s experience with Cloud for Analytics will help us stay ahead of the market by developing offerings specific to the needs of the industries we serve”.
